The team made some excellent plays, with Katrine Thompson scoring both of the touchdown points for St. Joseph's.

As for St. Thomas Aquinas, they battled hard but came up short, losing 8-12 against the Jags.

The team's defence also did a great job of keeping St. Thomas out of the endzone. Morgan Thompson had two great interceptions, and the rest of the defence were reading the plays, pulling flags left and right, making sure the St. Thomas offence stayed in the center of the field, and didn't veer off to the outside with the ball.

The girls' coach, Mr. Prentice, stated that "The team played a phenomenal game, and our defence really stepped up since their last game against St. Peter's High School."

Their next game is versus the St. Joan of Arc Knights. Go Jags Go!
