On Thursday September 27, the students and staff at St. Joseph's Catholic High School participated in the annual walk in honour of Terry Fox.

The walk was originally supposed to take place on Tuesday September 25, but was postponed because of inclement weather.

The students and staff began walking the track at 9:30 a.m. and finished around 10:30 a.m.

Schools from around the nation gathered together to honour Terry Fox and many victims of this awful disease we call cancer.

Emma Haring, a participant in the Terry Fox walk, said, "I had a good time and it really helped the school community come together." Keicy Navarro, another participant in the walk, stated, "It was very cold, but overall it was a good walk."

The annual Terry Fox walk ended on an amazing note with many more of them to come.
